

Go Green 4 Change Calendar Contest Rules

1. Submit a photo or drawing showing how climate change impacts your life or why it is important to stop climate change with an image of what can be lost.
2. Submit your image at drop box locations within each community with a completed entry form including questionnaire or online on the Go Green 4 Change Website. (<http://www.matawa.on.ca/article/go-green-4-change-261.asp>) Images submitted with incomplete entry forms and/or questionnaires will NOT be considered in the contest. Your name and contact information will ONLY be used for identification purposes for distributing calendars and giving out prizes and will NOT be associated to the answers you provide in the questionnaire.
3. Judges will determine 12 contest winners, 1 student from each community's school for a total of 9 student winners and 3 Matawa wide winners.
 - An entry is considered a student entry if it is submitted at the end of one of the workshops that will be occurring in each school. A student may also submit another entry to the Matawa wide contest if they wish.
 - An entry is considered a community member entry if it is submitted via a drop box or online entry. This includes any entries from the 2010 Matawa Youth Summit.
4. Community member participants with valid entries will have their names entered into a draw for 1 of 100 Go Green 4 Change prize kits.
5. Participants can submit as many pictures or drawings as they would like but can only win once.
6. Contest winners will have their images put into a calendar that will be distributed to each household in each community and to off-reserve participants. Each of the 12 contest winners will also receive a bicycle as a grand prize.
7. Contest closes October 15, 2010 and contest winners will be announced by January 2011.
8. Answers to questionnaire will ONLY be used by Matawa Technical Services to evaluate the amount of greenhouse gases reductions pledged by Matawa First Nations using a carbon budget calculator. Results of the evaluation WILL be submitted to the Ministry of the Environment BUT will NOT contain your name or contact information.
