WORKING CONDITIONS

The Office Administrator will work primarily in an office setting and may also be required to travel to the field (i.e. First Nation communities, remote communities, wilderness, lakes/rivers, wetlands, heavily forested areas) to perform the roles and responsibilities associated with their position.

Physical Demands

The Office Administrator may have to travel in all weather, in small aircraft or spend prolonged periods of time in a vehicle. He/She may have to lift, carry and manage office equipment and supplies. He/She may have to walk long distances outdoors over rough terrain, carrying heavy field equipment. He/She may have to wear specialized field or safety equipment which may be heavy and overly warm (ie steel toed boots, chest waders etc.). He/She, while outdoors, may be exposed to various insects, and weather conditions (hot, cold, rain, snow). He/She may have to work odd or long hours at a time to complete special requests or projects. He/She may have to spend long hours sitting and using office equipment, computers and attending meetings.

Environmental Conditions

Office setting:

The Matawa Building may be a busy facility. The Office Administrator may have to work with a number of people and projects at one time, and may be interrupted frequently to meet the needs and requests of Matawa First Nation Communities and Four Rivers Environmental Services Group. He/She may find the environment to be busy, noisy and will need excellent organizational, and time/stress management skills to complete the required tasks.

Field setting:

The Office Administrator may be required to work in various weather conditions (hot, rain, snow cold). He/She may have to work alone in remote environments and wilderness. Field work can be physically demanding (carry heavy loads, walking for long periods in rough terrain). He/She may be required to carry and use safety gear (i.e. first aid, radios, life jackets, GPS, compass, protective gloves or glasses) and navigate by map. He/She may have to work for long periods of time outdoors, and may be exposed to various insects and some remote camping. Occasional site visits may be required to industrial sites. All site-specific safety controls must be adhered to, along with site specific safety training and equipment.

Sensory Demands

Sensory demands can include reading and the use of computer which may cause eye/wrist strain and occasional headaches. The Matawa office at times may be noisy and busy making it difficult for the Office Administrator to concentrate.

Mental Demands

The Office Administrator will have to manage a number of requests and projects at one time. He/She must be aware of Tribal Council policies and procedures. They may have to complete a number of tasks and responsibilities at one time, and must be prepared to deal with stressful situations. Travel and field work may cause fatigue.
